little stories, beautiful cover art and pictures, tips and crafting ideas abound in each book. They're perfect for browsing through any time but I enjoy it best in the Autumn when the air is cool and crisp and the aromas from the harvest and baking are at their very best. If you are lucky enough you just may get one of your own family recipes added to one of their new cookbooks! Also, the fact that they started here in Ohio (my home state!) is a plus for me. These cookbooks make great gifts if you are able to give them away!

Best Cookies Ever
1-1/2 c. all-purpose flour
1 t. baking soda
1 c. butter, softened
1 c. sugar
1/2 c. brown sugar, packed
1 egg, beaten
1 t. vanilla extract
1-1/2 c. long-cooking oats, uncooked
10 mini peanut butter cups, unwrapped and quartered
1.55-oz. milk chocolate candy bar, grated
1 c. semi-sweet chocolate chips
1 c. toffee baking bits

Mix together flour and baking soda; set aside. In a separate large bowl, with an electric mixer on medium speed, beat together butter and sugars until fluffy. Beat in egg and vanilla. Add flour mixture; beat on low speed until blended. Use a spoon to fold in remaining ingredients. Cover with plastic wrap and chill for several hours to overnight. Form into one-inch balls and place 2 inches apart on greased baking sheets. Bake at 350 degrees for 10 to 12 minutes. Makes about 2-1/2 dozen.

I LOVE getting my recipes published in your Gooseberry Patch cookbooks! My sister Charlotte and I collect the cookbooks, read them over and use them for our Christmas cookie exchanges and hostess gifts. I just got a letter saying my recipe was going to be used in Sunday Dinner at Grandma's. Charlotte also got a letter...my daughter tells me this is turning into a competition! Thank you again. I can't wait to get my new book!

You know your day is complete when you have bought another Gooseberry Patch book! I found an older one, Christmas Cookie Jar...now that brings me up to fifty-plus Gooseberry Patch cookbooks. I have a list in my purse and my husband keeps a list in his wallet so we can keep track of the titles we already have.

I love, love, love your cookbooks. I have so many I've lost count, but I use them all. I can't wait to get the new ones for fall and Christmas. I like to make the Southern Praline Pecan Cake from Christmas in the Country...it's the best cake I have ever made!

From the Back Cover
Dear Friend,
So many of our sweetest memories are about cookies. There's Mom's cookie jar, brim-full of fresh-baked cookies, and chocolatey brownies at summer picnics. Of course, it wouldn't be Christmas without lots of cut-out cookies, loaded with frosting and sprinkles!

For Best-Ever Cookies we've gathered most-requested recipes like Peanut Butter Criss-Crosses and Mama's Gumdrops to bake for family friends. Everyone will cheer for All-American cookies like Bananas Foster Bars and Down-East Whoopie Pies. For chocolate lovers, we've included brownies galore...Triple Fudgy Brownies, Peppermint Patty Brownies...yum! For year 'round holiday fun, try Irish Cream Bars, Yankee Doodles, Pumpkin Patch Brownies and Yuletide Toffee Squares. And we all love old-fashioned Ginger Spice Crinkles and Orange Drop Cookies from Grandma's recipe box. Big-batch recipes like Cowboy Cookies (it makes 10 dozen!) are perfect for bake sales and potlucks. If time is short, whip up Crispy Peanut Butter Balls (no baking required!) or Pumpkin Pillows made easy with cake mix. For folks on special diets, you'll even find Gluten-Free Chocolate Chip Cookies and Low-Fat Key Lime Bars. We've included clever tips for baking and sharing cookies, plus copy color tags to make gift-giving extra special. So grab a big glass of ice-cold milk...It's cookie time!
