Jacqueline Bellefontaine : Classic Biscuits Family Favourites (Making Baking) before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Classic Biscuits Family Favourites (Making Baking):

Baking biscuits is so easy with Jacqueline's simple, step-by-step recipes. For everyday snacks, there's a whole range of melt-in-the mouth treats, such as Maple Pecan Cookies, Orange and Cranberry Biscuits, and Lavender Shortbreads that you can produce in just over half an hour. The section on 'Fancy Fun' introduces Cappuccino Creams, Walnut Whirls and Cinnamon Twirls or for something with a healthy twist try Date and Walnut Fingers, Fruity Flapjacks or Ginger Oat Cookies. The final section takes a global tour with its recipes for international classics, such as Viennese Shells, Dutch Jan Hagel Cookies and Florentines. To help you get started there are tips on the different baking methods as well as information on equipment and basic ingredients. With this fabulous range of crunchy, chewy and crumbly recipes, you can fill your biscuit tin with home-made delights ready for any occasion.

About the Author Jacqueline is a cookery writer and food stylist with over 15 years experience. She specialises in writing easy-to-follow recipes, all of which are thoroughly tested in her home kitchen.
